

The Power To FIGHT Is In Your Hands.

The most remarkable of these is that the IP-6 and Inositol combination functions as an “on and off switch” to help promote a healthy immune response. It inhibits the growth of irregular cells as well as the rate of damaged cell production!

InoCell contains Dr. Shamsuddin's patented ingredients of IP-6 with Inositol. The original InoCell formula safely controls cell division and helps cells to properly function.

InoCell™ Discover Its Life-Changing Effects
If you have a family history of immune related concerns and/or if you currently have a need to boost your immune response, InoCell is the right product for you.

When facing the enemy, give yourself every advantage. InoCell is a safe addition to your health regimen. It arms your immune system with front-line defenses and promotes healthy cell function. Without warning, our bodies can face a hostile takeover. However, now you can fight back with a remarkable breakthrough that helps to strengthen the immune system by controlling key functions in your cells. By dramatically boosting natural killer-cell activity, InoCell™, a derivative of the B-Vitamin, helps create a stronger immune system, a healthier you.

So Simple, Yet So Potent

A key component to keeping our bodies and our cells healthy is the right type of supplementation. Scientists and the medical community have long advocated the health benefits of a high-fiber, low-fat diet. Researchers believe that a substance called IP-6 (inositol hexaphosphate) is chiefly responsible for the protective effects of a high-fiber diet.

They've also proven that the combination of IP-6 and Inositol produces even greater health results.

InoCell is the pinnacle of this healthy principle. Made of all-natural ingredients, it provides powerful cellular protection by delivering fiber's active ingredient, IP-6. InoCell combines IP-6 with Inositol, Calcium, and Magnesium for maximum cell protection.*

Nature's Powerhouse

P-6 is found in all mammals and in whole grains, cereals, legumes, soybeans, nuts, and seeds. And while it's an essential part of high-fiber foods, IP-6 isn't always well absorbed by our bodies.

InoCell provides a pure IP-6 combination formula to optimize its health advantages. Naturally occurring compounds produced from rice bran are concentrated in special combination for more rapid absorption.

Tale of Two Countries

Finland and Denmark are two countries whose residents regularly consume high-fiber diets. Yet the health profile of both countries differs greatly—Denmark's population has twice as many immune system-related health problems. If fiber's so healthy, why the big difference?

That's what a renowned pathologist at the University of Maryland School of Medicine set out to explain. Twenty years, and more than 80 studies later, he discovered that eating the right fiber is more important than consuming lots of it; that quality is more important than quantity. He also discovered something even more amazing.

Unlocking The Secrets of IP-6 + Inositol

Abdulkalam Shamsuddin, M.D., Ph.D., is the leading authority on IP-6 and the scientist responsible for discovering its health-promoting benefits. The journey this physician began more than 20 years ago has uncovered several pioneering observations, now supported and confirmed by research.
